Serve Day: Bham Crisis Center

UPDATE

Jinny, our Social Media Coordinator and Photographer, got the opportunity to visit both project sites and took snapshots of the incredible work that took place during these two events.

We completed 100 Hygiene Kits!

We want to express our gratitude to every person who was able to contribute to the completion of this project. We are thankful to every person who contributed by purchasing items from our Amazon Wishlist for each kit. Special thanks to Ann Tyler and her team at the Riverchase COH for their fantastic work in assembling these essential hygiene kits for sexual assault victims in the Birmingham Crisis Center Rape Response Program.

THANK YOU!

A big thank you to Kathy, Michelle, and all our staff and volunteers for their efforts in creating these items. We are very grateful for the opportunity to potentially generate a monthly income to support our nonprofit and the women we serve.

If you are available on the days of our event, we like to invite you to come out to support us:

Save the Date

Global Partnership with YouVersion

June 2024

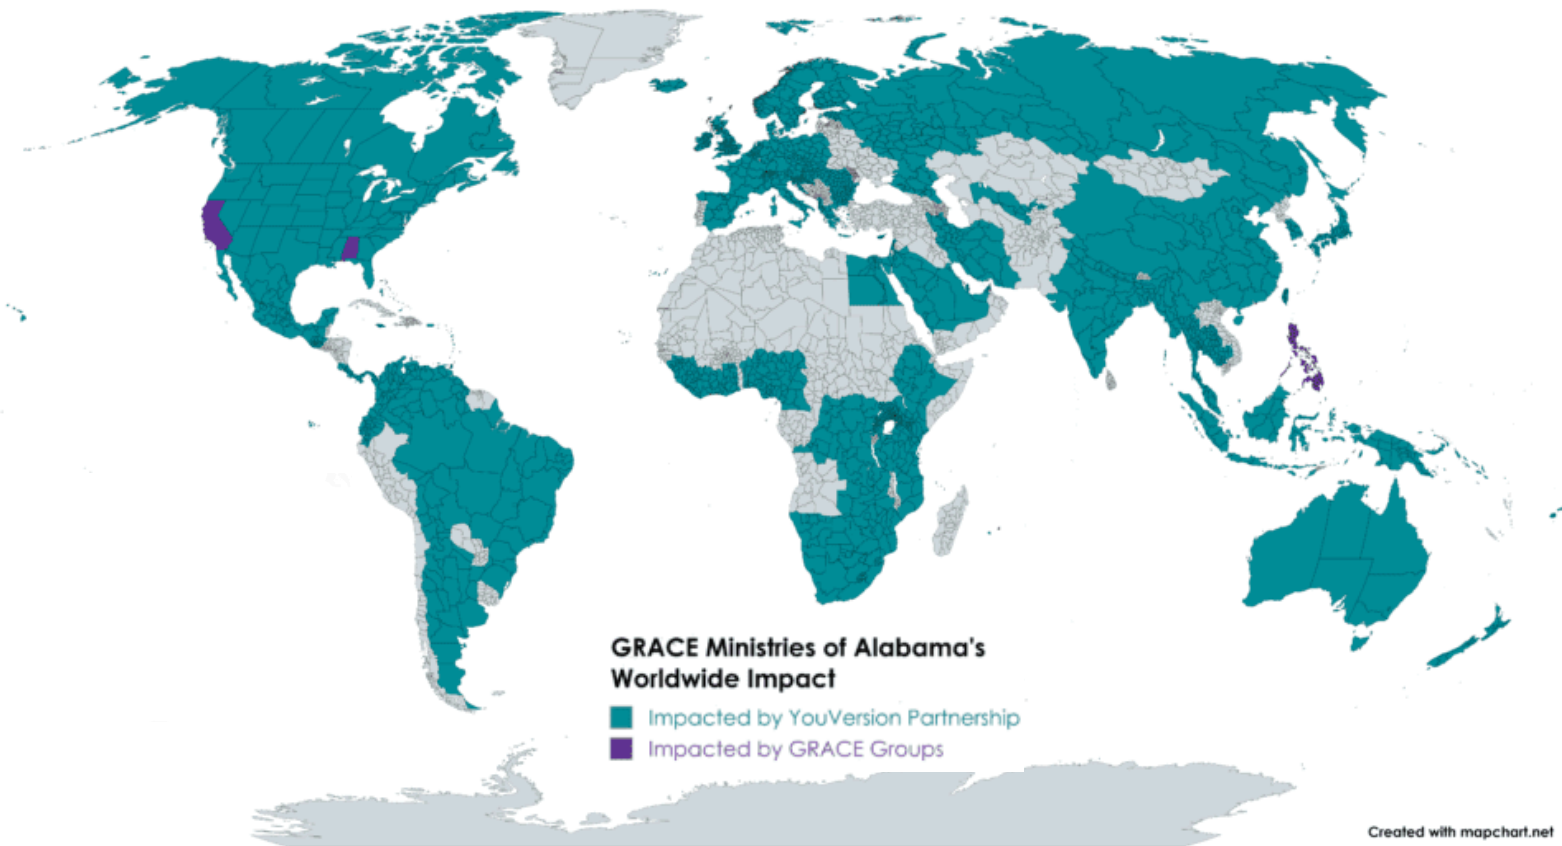

Last week, Michelle and Erica had the extraordinary privilege of meeting Amanda Sims, a Global Partnership Manager from YouVersion. It was such an incredible experience to sit down and have a meaningful conversation about the amazing impact of YouVersion's unwavering support on our ministry's outreach across the globe! Amanda brought an abundance of insight and ideas, inspiring us to continue creating additional, diverse content to support our readers on their journey toward healing. Our partnership with YouVersion has opened another door of awareness about the truth of the abounding love of God and the freedom, strength, and healing He provides to the survivor. We want to take this opportunity to extend our deepest appreciation to Amanda Sims and the entire YouVersion team for their steadfast support, prayers, and genuine kindness. Together, we are spreading the message of Jesus' power to transform the world.

For those interested, our current devotional can be found at the following links below.

In addition, we humbly request your prayers as we work on creating our next devotional for YouVersion. Your prayers for clarity and focus will be invaluable as we strive to deliver a message that connects deeply with our audience. Thank you for your ongoing encouragement and support.
